We publish in this issue a proposition from Wesley Kouns, the patentee of the anti freezing watering trough. There ought to be big money in the manufacture of these troughs and if the right parties should take hold there is no doubt of making a success. Mr. Kouns is well known here and does not need lengthy endorsements. The people can see the trough in front of Conrad's hardware store, after which a visit to the shops in the north western part of the city will be sufficient to satisfy them of the profits in the business proposed by Mr. Kouns.

Alfred DeWitt came up from Guthrie, Oklahoma, last week. It is his first trip since going in among the first to enter the new country. There is no opposition to the North and South road when it is understood. A little explanation satisfies the tax payer and he is only too glad to have an opportunity of signing the petition.

Committee on streets and alleys reported six crossings needed on East Iron avenue, and recommended that crossings be laid so as to connect the sidewalks already built. On motion crossings were ordered laid.

Petition for sidewalk on Twelfth street was presented and read by the clerk. Referred to sidewalk committee. Another for sidewalk on Tenth street. Another paper was read from signers of petition asking that should the council fail to grade up the street that their names be stricken from the petition. This petition is a repetition of others and shows that that particular neighborhood is at war on the position of sidewalk. The matter has been before the council several months, and for that reason the council was disposed to treat the petition unfavorably until such time as the people can agree.

A motion to repair sidewalk on South Eighth street, between Mulberry and South street, was carried. Defective walk on Fifth street was reported and ordered repaired.

Committee reported unfavorably on eight petitions.

Committee on public health and sanitary measures reported several low places now filled with water, necessary to be filled up.

The sewer committee reported a number of bids for new sewers and on motion council proceeded to open bids.

The letting of the contract was placed in the hands of a committee with instructions to make the figures necessary to determine the lowest bid.

Dr. Seest in behalf of the district Chautauqua movement was heard and a committee, consisting of Councilmen Whitehead, Godfrey and Kirtland was appointed to look into the matter of city aid.

On motion the contract for city printing was transferred from the Daily Gazette to the SALINA COUNTY JOURNAL.

Several building permits were granted and Architect Krueger on behalf of M. J. Davis, using a permit for a number of one-story buildings to be erected on the Morse property on North Santa Fe avenue. The special permits were referred to a committee with instructions to report at next meeting after a thorough examination of the plans presented by Mr. Krueger.

At 7 o'clock yesterday morning the neighborhood on South Seventh street was aroused through a terrific explosion of gasoline. It occurred in the residence occupied by Mr. J. M. Davis. It seems Mrs. Davis had prepared for a "two weeks washing" in the kitchen, using a gasoline stove for heating. In filling the tank a little too much oil was poured in, and on lighting the fire the leaky places caught and in a few seconds the entire stove and tank was ablaze. She sought to another the flame by turning down the tank and covering with the clothing prepared for wash, but the effort was a failure for in a few moments the clothing was on fire. F. C. York, the nearest neighbor, was called and he at once began taking out the burning clothes. Returning a second time he heard the oil boiling and sizzling in the tank and at once attempted to make his escape through the open door. The explosion occurred just then and he was thrown some distance out, being burned about the neck and head. Glenn, York a little son of F. C. York was just then entering the door. He was badly burned in the face and about the neck but fortunately closed his eyes in time to save the eye-sight. The doors and windows had all been thrown open thus saving the house from being a total wreck. Doors were blown from their hinges and every thing in the kitchen totally destroyed and the walls blackened and charred. The hot air by the little boy Glenn was burned to a crisp. Mrs. Davis who had escaped to the yard was slightly burned about the neck and arms. All the clothing ready for the wash was a complete loss, leaving the family distressed.

For two years past Salina he occupied the position of book-keeper in the office of Daily & Rash. He had a large acquaintance in Salina and throughout the country and numbered his friends by the hundred. The particulars of his death are not known.

Death of M. R. Clark. Mr. M. R. Clark died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. B. G. Lanham, last Saturday, at the advanced age of 92 years. Mr. Clark was the father of Wm. Clark, of this city. The remains were embalmed by W. & M. D. Berg. Funeral services were held Sunday and the remains were then started for the care of Wittenberg, Pennsylvania, for interment.

Board of Education. The board of education held a meeting Monday night. The salaries of two or three teachers were fixed, and the question of school tax levy was in hand and nothing definite was fixed. The board adjourned to meet again last night, and served notice upon the board clerk to have the books of the board on hand.

Lutheran Service. The members of the English Lutheran church held their social at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. DeWee. The beautiful lawn surrounding the residence was lighted with lanterns, and the multitude of comers and goers found delightful recreation. A musical programme was a feature highly appreciated.

Route Surveyed. The chief engineer of the North & South line was in the city last night. He reports two routes surveyed north, one via Bennington and the other to Minneapolis. He says the Minneapolis citizens are enthusiastic and will do the hand-some thing by the road.

THE DISPATCH BAND

Gives a Free Concert—Social Features and Refreshments.

Under the management of Chas. D. Wagstaff the Dispatch band gave a creditable concert Saturday night. The boys were fearful at first that the rain which fell during the day would have a bad effect upon the attendance, but from the time the doors were open and the concert began the hall was crowded. Tables laden with ice-cream, cake and fruits were eagerly sought, and the receipts were gratifying to the members of the band. This was the first concert by the Dispatch boys. The music was all good, especially the trombones solo by Chas. Wagstaff and the solo music by George Lill. The band has made friends rapidly and in future success will mark its progress.

Another Good Move.

Another move in the right direction has been made by Salina wheat buyers. It is nothing less than the handling of a much greater portion of the wheat shipped from this section than heretofore. W. D. Judd has established twenty-one stations for buying on the Lincoln branch. The entire purchase is shipped direct to Salina and passes through the cleaning process in Salina elevators. The Taylor Miller elevator is at present doing the work which has always been done by eastern elevators. The direct result will be to class the Lincoln branch wheat several grades higher than has heretofore been known and a better price will be the result.

Heavenly Recognition.

"Do the spirits of the dead recognize each other in Heaven?" This is the subject upon which Rev. C. F. Mortimer will speak upon next Sunday night at the Christian church. Morning subject "Black sheep in Heaven."

A mass meeting was called in the board of trade rooms last evening. F. M. Hamilton, president of the board of trade, presided over the meeting. The committee on railroad bond petitions reported a number of names lacking. A strong committee was appointed to have the petitions circulated and the requisite number of names by Saturday afternoon. The North and South road is assured.

The city has a rock pile upon which those people may work who are in want and do not wish to ask for county aid. The rate of five cents an hour is paid; a higher rate would attract too many. We have observed that quite a number of boys from twelve to sixteen years of age, who had, until lately, been loafers on the street, are working on this rock pile. It is a good thing for the boys. Nothing else the city could do would help them as much. It will keep them out of mischief and prevent them from committing misdemeanors or crimes, and will teach them habits of industry.—Manhattan Nationalist.
